

February 15, 2008

Celebrity Valentine's Day Memories Cristina Perez

"Aside from the exchange of tokens of love, Valentine's Day has a special meaning to each of us. We can all agree that it is a day where loved ones can spend needed time together. Generally, my husband and I usually spend an evening out together. Last year we added one—our daughter (my husband's idea and one I don't regret). It was her first Valentine's Day date. He took us out on the town. We got all dolled up, went to a fancy restaurant, sat in a cozy table for three, with candles, rose petals, a teddy bear (for Sofia), a box of chocolate and of course, lots of love. We were treated like queens. The look on my daughter's face was priceless. In the end, it was a great day. I spent time with the two people I love the most. A tradition that we will continue to follow until my husband follows our daughter out for her first 'real' Valentine's Day date."

— Cristina Perez (judge/host Cristina's Court)